Snowshoe Mountain

The largest winter resort in the mid-Atlantic

Snowshoe Mountain boasts 180 inches average annual snowfall. Its 244 skiable acres and 60 slopes and trails (41% easier, 36% more difficult, 23% most difficult) on three distinct areas – Snowshoe, Silver Creek, and the Western Territories – provide great skiing/riding slopes for all abilities. Those who are up to the challenge can tackle the 1,500 vertical feet and 1.5 miles of thrills on its well-known Western Territory runs – Cupp Run and Shay’s Revenge.
